He Done Her Wrong Event Outline

A. Introduction - Moderator introduces herself and asked each panelist to do the same
B. Discussion questions

- Please explain how your work or advocacy engages with or is relevant to violence against women.
- Specifically for Anne Bautista - what constitutes domestic violence (DV); what constitutes DV as a punishable offense under current federal law
- How did you get into this line of work - i.e. what experiences or circumstances led you to become and advocate for DV survivors?
- How do you engage with the women who are currently enduring, or who are recovering from DV? What are the special considerations or accommodations you make in order to offer empathy and sensitivity?
- How you employ your writing and other skills to reframe the narrative of victimhood to one of empowerment, to help DV survivors heal from trauma How have these women responded to your efforts?
- What have you learned from your work in supporting survivors of violence?
- How do you practice self care in order to continue working with DV survivors?
- What strategies could you recommend to the average person to enable him or her to be more supportive of those suffering from domestic violence?
- Specifically for Anne Bautista Esq.- please explain (in brief) the legal protections for survivors of DV, in particular the U visa for immigrant survivors of DV. How have these protections changed under the current administration?
- The panel will now take questions from the audience.
